

nature hides some of its best secrets

Many of our members have made a gift to The Nature Conservancy in their estate plans but haven't had the opportunity to tell us. If you have included the Conservancy in your estate plan, please let us in on your secret. Your commitment to the Conservancy is an enduring gift to conservation and is vital to our success in preserving the magnificent natural places we all treasure.

So let us thank you. We would like to keep you informed about our strategies, our achievements, and our challenges in saving the last great places around the world.
